I Dare Me sends author Lu Ann Cahn on a yearlong journey to try something new every day. Sometimes she tries big things (cooking a rack of lamb, riding in a race car, learning to fence, starting a daily journal) but mostly she just tries small things (going to the movies by herself, learning to sew on a button, talking to a stranger), and the results are quite engaging.

Dare Me is an American teen drama television series based on the 2012 novel of the same name by Megan Abbott. The series was picked up in late January 2019 and premiered on USA Network on December 29, 2019. In April 2020, USA Network canceled the series after one season.

Dare Me (TV series) - Wikipedia

"How dare I!" would be an ironic (or sarcastic) play off of the common expression "How dare you!" used to suggest that the offense you caused was unreasonable or even ridiculous. For example, suppose my friend is in a bad mood, and she gets angry when I cheerily greet her and compliment her:

grammar - "How dare I" is natural, correct and polite ...

I Dare You To Ask Me How I've Been. After all we meant to each other, after all of our love, after all those moments we had, after all this time that now stands between us, I honestly don't want you anymore. I am finally ready to say, "No" to you. I'm finally ready to move on. But it still hurts.
